SEASON'S GREETINGS FROM US!

Fr. Ryuichiro Hanafusa, SJ
Pastor

Merry Christmas! While there has been a substantial decrease in corona infections, we still do not know if another wave will occur. Nor are we sure what other unexpected things may be on the way in 2022. However, is it not meaningful for us to be spending the Ignatian Year in the midst of such a crisis? The motto of the Ignatian Year is "To See Everything New in Christ." There are good and bad aspects in everything that happens to us. Sometimes even bad experiences help us understand things in a better or newer manner. Let us try to look for something "new" in the New Year and try to see it through the eyes of Christ. I wish you a blessed New Year 2022!

Fr. Bony James, SJ
Director, John de Britto English Center

During the time of church closure, our parishioners sent origami cranes, representing themselves during the Mass. The paper cranes – some big, some small, some colorful, all beautiful, sitting shoulder to shoulder with each other in front of the altar -- remind me of the beauty and diversity of our parish. While being thankful to everyone who sent the paper cranes, sometimes I also felt lonely celebrating Mass in front of paper cranes! Now that the corona restrictions have largely been eased, my earnest prayer is that in 2022 all our parishioners can attend the Mass in person. Merry Christmas and Happy New Year 2022!

Sr. Flor M. Florece, FI
Coordinator

This is our second Christmas in the shadow of the pandemic. The threat of the corona virus continues to lurk around us. But it has not paralyzed us. "The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness has never put it out." (John. 1:5). Instead, it has made us realize who we are, what we truly value in life. It has led us to new ways of "being Church." It has made us more creative. In this Season of Christmas, let us not "slide back," simply nostalgic for "what was normal" before the pandemic.

How about some time for PRAYERFUL SILENCE to reflect on how God has "passed in our life" in the year 2021 and to mull over the word GRATITUDE? St. Ignatius of Loyola in his Spiritual Exercises suggests that we enter into "Contemplation" of the Incarnation and the Nativity (101-117) or the "Contemplation to Attain the Love of God" (230-234). I believe it is only then that we can have authentic HOPE as we start the still unknown 2022. Not a false HOPE, but one grounded in God's LOVE, an intimate knowledge of the many blessings received personally and by all of humankind. Yes, we are alive because God continues to sustain us. This is the GOOD NEWS we have to pass on to others! A grace-filled Christmas and a hope-filled New Year!

Sr. Leny Fery, FdCC
Coordinator

Again, this is a Christmas different from all others. Yet, no one else nor any other virus could stop us from believing that the "Word was made Flesh." Even in the midst the pandemic, HOPE CONTINUES TO REIGN! Look at the street dwellers and homeless of Tokyo, the migrants living with their uncertainties of life, the poor living in depressed areas in other parts of the world who do not have the luxury of observing social distancing, the many people traumatized by deaths in their families, natural calamities here and there, insurgency, all sorts of sufferings. No matter how tough life may be, Emmanuel, "God with us," remains with us. He is the HOPE that never fades nor languishes. The pandemic may stay on for another year, but as long as we continue to anchor our lives in Jesus and keep our faith alive, we will be strong.

May Jesus be reborn in our hearts to give us life anew. May Christmas continue to be true in its real meaning and vitality - a child born to us imparting the gifts of joy, peace, hope, and love. Can we not be sharers of God's gifts to others this Christmas?

It's Christmas Season again. While we still cannot have big gatherings and parties, one thing is for sure, our consumption of food, beverages as well as Christmas decorations and gift wrappings will lead to more garbage. DO YOU KNOW how long they take to decompose?

The bottom line here is that we need to be aware of our actions and their repercussions on the environment! Let this consciousness be translated to action. Let it be humankind's Christmas present to Jesus. Let us not depend on governments alone, like the recently concluded COP26, to address climate change, a crucial problem that affects the whole of creation. LET IT BEGIN with ME!

The Catholic Faith

The Church has encouraged a “narrative approach,” the telling or writing of one’s own faith story and journey within the Church. It is a tool that is simple and easy to relate to, as testimony of lived faith. Each one of us has a story to tell. Here, we share with you the journey of “Gianna,” a young adult who just recently received the first three Sacraments in St. Ignatius Church.

My Christmas Came Early

Two thousand years ago, in a small town of Bethlehem, in the humblest circumstances possible, a child was born; and everything changed forever!

Two weeks ago, in the sincerest way I could ever imagine, I received Jesus Christ; and everything changed forever!

It all started when I contracted the corona virus late last year. I was sick, alone, and scared, so I started praying. I called out to God, and he was right there. He listened to every word that I said. He comforted me and assured me that everything was going to be okay, and I trusted him. I continued praying every single day of my “isolation.” A couple of weeks later, most of my symptoms were gone, and after a month, my condition was back to normal.

I believe that experience made me grow closer to God. So, a few months after I recovered, I inquired at St. Ignatius for Adult Baptism. I felt like it was something I needed. I did not want to lose the connection I had built with God over the course of my trying times.

I knocked on the door of John de Britto English Center and I was impressed with how welcoming everyone was. It was a pleasure to meet so many people who share the same faith. It was as if I had found a new home. I felt comfortable, like I fitted in.

“Gianna”

Sr. Flor Florece, F.I. guided me in my journey to know God more. We met two to three times a month for around two hours. Every time I met her, I felt like I grew closer to what I was looking for. My Sundays, which used to be days for partying and drinking, have now become time to attend Mass and have catechism lessons. And to be honest, I would not want it any other way.

Four months later, I got baptized. It was the most beautiful thing I have ever experienced. During the ceremony, I could feel God’s presence, as if he was right there, watching as I was slowly becoming what I was always supposed to be – God’s child.

Two weeks later, I experienced the Sacrament of Reconciliation. I thought I was going to feel uncomfortable. After all, it was my first time. But I was not. As the words came out of my mouth, I felt lighter, like the weight I have been carrying for a long time had finally been unloaded. And on the same day, I received the Holy Eucharist – the Body of Christ.

Advent is the season of preparation for the coming of Jesus Christ on Christmas Day. God wanted Mary and Joseph to be in a different place when they welcomed Jesus into their lives. Their journey to Bethlehem was God’s way of preparing them for the changes they would experience when Jesus was born. When I tested positive for the virus, I wanted to believe that it was God’s way of preparing me. It was the start of my Advent journey. And when I received the Holy Eucharist, I received Jesus Christ. Therefore, it was my Christmas Day.

Oh God, thank you for being with me when I was sick and scared. Thank you for letting me feel your presence so that I would not feel that I was alone. Thank you for giving me the strength to continue fighting. Thank you for lightening my way and for leading me to people who would help me in my journey of knowing you. Oh, God, I have nothing to worry about because you are at my side, no matter what happens. Strengthen and protect me from the Evil one. Amen.

St. Ignatius News and Events

Nov. 21. At last, after being postponed from last August because of the escalating condition of the pandemic, the 3rd batch of Candidates for Confirmation had their Confirmation Ceremony during the 10:00 a.m. Japanese Mass. It was officiated by Fr. Ryuichiro Hanafusa and our newly ordained priest, Fr. Peter Nguyen Van Toan. Forty- seven, young and adults, completed the Sacraments of Initiation. Of these, three adolescents and one adult came from the John de Britto English Center. We hope they will continue to be active in St. Ignatius, sharing the gifts and talents they have received from the Lord, in the different Ministries and Groups of the parish.

Nov. 21. International Youth Ministry (SIYM). After going through a discernment process across several sessions, we are happy to announce the conclusion and results of our election. We have voted Crystal Eileen (Indonesia) as the next Representative and Renzo Carlo Gonzalez (Philippines) as Assistant Representative. They will be assisted by our next Core Group leaders: Valerie Aurelia (Indonesia), Royston Rodrigues (India), Dang Hoang (Vietnam), Masato Uruno (Japan-Philippines), Mariel (Philippines), Kotoe Kuroda (Japanese), and Ivander Hartanto (Indonesian). They will begin their service from Easter 2022.

Note: The English Center would like to thank Seika Masugi, Miguel Evangelista, Masato Uruno, and the rest of the Core Group Leaders for their indefatigable service and support in the various activities of the Center. And we pray for the incoming leaders.

Nov. 28 - Dec. 12. Church Bazaar. Again, because of the pandemic, this yearly event which many people look forward to, has not been held for the past two years. This time, yes, but very much scaled down and with many restrictions because we could not be lax in our observance of protocols. Participated in by various parish groups, proceeds from the bazaar are usually pooled together with the Christmas offerings during Mass to be given to a certain group abroad who are in need. Last year, we were able to help typhoon victims in the Philippines and an Ecological Project for the Poor in Sri Lanka. This year, it was decided that the donations will go to St. Ignatius Church for its needs and pastoral activities.

December 12. Third Sunday of Advent, in St. Joseph Hall, the foreign community and some Japanese as well, will attend the Advent Recollection to be given by Fr. Renzo de Luca, Provincial of the Jesuits' Japan Province. Organized by the John de Britto English Center, we asked Fr. De Luca to give a talk on HOPE, the theme that carries us through the Advent Season. As we are celebrating the Ignatian Year, we also requested him to deepen the topic in the context of Ignatian Spirituality. Many volunteers and parishioners are eagerly looking forward to a face-to-face encounter this time. Because of the pandemic they have been missing the atmosphere of prayer, and of praying as one community. The Faith Sharing Group will facilitate the activity.

St. Ignatius News and Events

Do you know what a TRIUDUM is? It consists of three consecutive days in which liturgical activities are held. This year, we will have two: the Christmas Triduum and the New Year's Triduum. Likewise, in case you will not be able to attend the Advent Recollection.

#Christmas Triduum (English Masses)

Re-opening of Ministries/Groups

English Sunday School

UNFROZEN! That was how I felt that first Sunday in November as I was climbing up the stairs to Room 403B of Arrupe Hall. For the first time after long months of frozen gatherings, we could resume our Sunday School face to face with the kids:

LET'S REMAIN UNFROZEN!!!!

I had a song in my heart:

*Let it go, let it go,
Thank you Lord: no more videos!
Let it go, let it go,
Let's go back, open all the doors!
With the kids, face to face again!
Let our joy overflow...
God's love always surrounds us anyway!*

It was a great joy to see their faces... sorry, half-masked faces. How they have grown since the last time we met! It was a joy to sing together, to laugh together, to learn about Jesus together, to pray together...

(Luke 18:16) "Let the little children come to me, and do not hinder them, for the kingdom of God belongs to such as these" said Jesus 2,000 years ago, and ... today.

Parents, He is still calling each one of your children to come to him, because he wants to offer them his loving presence, the Divine Presence in their daily life, a presence which transforms everything. Then, the desire grows in them to know and to love him and to ask what they should do in order to live a Christian life. Faith grows in their hearts and God takes them by the hand in order to lead them to an ever-deeper communion with him and with others.

May this Word of Life (Luke 18: 16) resound in your hearts, dear parents. May many, many more children come to Sunday School. It is held every first Sunday of the month, from 1:30 to 2:30 PM. Attend first the 12 o'clock Family Sunday Mass, have a quick lunch, then come and join our Catechesis.

(Isabelle Bonasse, NDV)

Altar Servers Group

For almost two years, they have not been seen assisting in the Mass! How sad! What happened to them? Some were trained instead to be Readers and Lectors in the Family Mass. Others stopped going to church and just attended on-line Masses. So, when we were told they could resume their Ministry beginning in the Advent Season, we burst with joy! We immediately contacted their parents. Are they still interested? Do they still remember the details of their functions? They have to be brought back to the right disposition in serving. We started to draw up a list of those who can serve during the major Solemnities of the Christmas Season. After the holidays, we intend to invite those who had their First Communion or Confirmation this year to form a new batch. We need to take care of this Group. They are the group "in-between" the Sunday School and the Youth Group. They are the future of the church.

English Center Office Staff Volunteers

Question: "When are we going to open the Office again, Sister?" Answer: "Not yet, we are still in a State of Emergency". I was asked this often, and so were the other volunteer staff members. Five States of Emergency have already passed. I felt sad to always see the doors of the English Center shut from Monday to Friday. Once in a while, I would come to clean and dispose of the trash accumulated on weekends. Finally, we re-opened in November. At first, there were no phone calls, no inquiries. Were people getting used to not coming? Our group of five volunteers decided to come November 25 for a general cleaning and to decorate the office for Christmas. It was an invigorating day! There was joyful energy as we hung the Christmas decorations. May the spirit of Christmas be felt once again by the visitors who come!

(Grace Tanaka)

English Group Meeting

We have been meeting regularly Online on Saturday afternoons for almost two years already. The number of attendees fluctuated depending on whether they had to work on that day. We became creative, including a lot of share screening, and we incorporated short videos on St. Ignatius and Ignatian Spirituality for our formation, it being the Ignatian Year. But there was no substitute for the joy of seeing each other face to face and of seeing the spontaneous reaction of each one instead of the usual, "Please unmute; open your video." November 21 was our first face-to-face gathering. All the "regulars" came. The fraternal atmosphere was certainly back!

Choir

The Group leader was tediously selecting appropriate liturgical songs for the Advent and Christmas Seasons. She missed what we used to have—a big international choir so dedicated in practicing Christmas songs and the sound of the trumpet filling the main Church, bringing everyone to realize that "Christ is born today." There was a time there was no choir at all, and then two cantors were allowed. At the end of November Fr. Hanafusa announced that the Choir will be allowed to sing, provided they observe protocols. Thanks be to God! Now she has to mobilize, polish rusty voices in time for Christmas Day!

The John de Britto Center will continue to accept applications for First Communion until December 19. Interviews are required. Please see Sr. Flor in the English Center.

EYES, MIND, HEART On ART

by Douglas Daniel Marvin

The Annunciation:

No one saw the Annunciation, and yet perhaps no incident has been so repeatedly painted – used by artists and cherished by believers.

This is a very large, ancient icon, taken from the Cathedral in Nougorod, Russia. The unknown icon painter portrays the Archangel Gabriel as a figure of slow solemnity. He raises his arm gently, but emphatically in a blessing. Mary is not seated, as if to signify her constant state of attention to the messages of God. The blue-green color of her tunic indicates her human nature, while the dark red cloak symbolizes the majesty of her royalty. Her head is bowed as she listens. One hand almost instinctively replies to the angelic greeting, while the other hand is holding the skein of scarlet thread from which she has been spinning the fabric of the Temple veil (according to legend). The red thread which she holds with one hand is connected to the small, embryonic child within her bosom.

Now, at last, time has come to its fullness, and God the Father knows the world is ready to receive his Son. It is typical of God’s humility that Mary is asked if she will be the mother to Jesus...the Second Person of the Blessed Trinity. God asks; God will never impose. “Let what you have said be done to me.” Although she did not completely understand what was happening, she knew the question had been put to her by God. “My soul proclaims the greatness of the Lord,” she would tell her cousin Elizabeth. God holds everything in his loving providence. Mary had absolute trust that whatever God wanted, God must have. The annunciation is essentially about trusting God, and letting him do as he pleases with us, secure in his Fatherhood.

The Feast of the Annunciation is celebrated in many Christian calendars: Roman Catholic, Anglican, Lutheran, Eastern Orthodox, Oriental Orthodox and Eastern Churches. Greek Independence Day is celebrated on the Feast of the Annunciation. It is also a national holiday in Lebanon, March 25th. The hand that Mary extended to the angel Gabriel is present over the world...

just ask Mary, and she will give it to you... who does not need a helping hand!!!!???

(Compiled from the book “The Art of Mary”, by Sister Wendy Beckett)

The Nativity of Christ:

At Mass we see and partake in the Consecration of the Eucharist, the essential Sacrament of our Catholic Faith. The priest holds the host that has become the Eucharist, the Body of Christ, before us.

In this particular picture of primitive folk art from the National Museum of the Belarus Republic, Minsk, we see a very crowded “Nativity of Christ.” What struck me at first in this image is all the hands: hands of prayer, hands of presentation mostly pointing towards the baby Jesus in the manger. Their hands point us toward this eternal gift of joy: God incarnate, Jesus Christ. Even the star above the manger has pointed rays: rays of hope and love. Mary is smiling. She adores him. Like the priest at Mass during the Consecration, Mary acts as a priest, putting before us the reality of Jesus, directing, and asking us to share in the joy of her Son Jesus.

Mary’s unshakable faith in God brings us to this joyous moment. To quote Teilhard de Chardin, “The infallible sign of the presence of God is joy. Let us try to pray and remember that on Christmas and throughout the year, for the joy of God... and the source of this joy is Love.

Extend a joyous Christ-centered hand to those around you this Christmas and throughout the year!!!

EYES, MIND, HEART ON ART

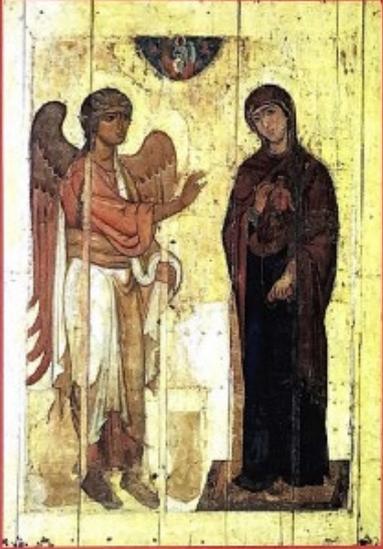

CHRISTMAS (Engl. “Christ mass”). The celebration of the birth of Jesus. Although the date of Jesus’ birth is unknown, it has been observed on December 25 in the West since the third or early fourth century.

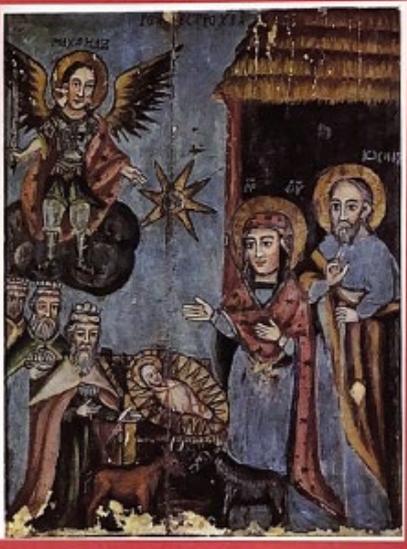

It was chosen to coincide with the festal day, dies natalis solis invicti (“birthday of the unconquered sun”), established at the winter solstice by the Roman emperor Aurelian in 274.

Mission 2030 Prayer Intention

December 2021 - January 2022

As we approach Christmas, and welcome a New Year, we thank God for all we have received from Him. May we share the joy of the Season by serving the people around us with a compassionate heart.

Pope's Prayer Intentions

December 2021: For Catechists

Let us pray for catechists, summoned to announce the Word of God. With courage and creativity and in the power of the Holy Spirit, may they be witnesses of the WORD.

January 2022: For True Human Fraternity

We pray for all those suffering from religious discrimination and persecution. Because we are brothers and sisters originating from the human family., may their own rights and dignity be recognized.
